|   | JP App. A      | Tracking #144 | 4-22 Dra        | ft #1               | Active |              |
|---|----------------|---------------|-----------------|---------------------|--------|--------------|
| Rule Change Type  | Effective Date |               | Draft Received  |                     |        | Board Action |
| Standard  | 12/1/2023      |               | 2/28/2023       |                     |        |              |
|   |                |               |                 |                     |        |              |
| Rule Change Intent  |                |               |                 |                     |        |              |
|   |                |               | gemen           |                     |        |              |
| The use of flags on schooling obstacle creates a safer schooling area where everyone knows the direction to jump each obstacle. This also more closelyaligns the USEF Schooling Rules with the FEI's. |                |               |                 |                     |        |              |
|   |                |               |                 |                     |        |              |
| Proponent Details   |                |               |                 | Contact Information |        |              |
| Jumper  |                |               | Jennifer Haydon |                     |        |              |
|   |                |               |                 |                     | jhay   | don@usef.org |
| Linked Rules  |                |               | Comments        |                     |        |              |
|   |                |               |                 |                     |        |              |
| Committee Actions   |                |               |                 |                     |        |              |

APPENDIX A

USEF JUMPER SCHOOLING RULES

...

4. Obstacles must may be flagged and, in which case they must be jumped in the proper direction. The Steward and/or Schooling Supervisor will should decide if the flags may be interchanged.