Extraordinary Change Reason

Since the Federation does not license Chief Stewards for national competitions, the inclusion of this role within national rules creates an unfairness to the Federation by being unable to successfully host combined driving competitions as it is impossible to have the acceptable officials. Defining the roles as written in this rule change proposal is critical in order to for the Federation to be correct and accurate.

Rule Change Intent

At the national level USEF does not license Combined Driving Stewards. The steward language within the Combined Driving chapter reflects FEI rules. In order to avoid confusion, the steward language should be changed to Combined Driving Technical Delegates as they, the TDs, are the correct officials for national driving competitions. In addition, ground observers, timekeepers, and obstacle observers are not USEF officials and should be referred to as Competition Staff.
