JUMPING

PATHWAY PROGRAM

In recent years, the U.S. Jumping Teams have shown strong consistent performances across all categories – elite, development and youth.

Since 2004, U.S. Jumping has headed the Olympic Jumping Team Medal table with an impressive 5 medals over the last six Games while the nearest competitors have a total of 2 medals. Additionally, since 2014 the U.S. Teams that have won medals at World Championships and Olympic Games have included an athlete making their first appearance on a Team at that level.

The Jumping Program seeks to develop athletes and horses starting with the Youth Programs through the Development Program and finally the Elite Program. This Pathway provides the crucial experiences necessary in order to be able to ultimately deliver on the world stage when medals are on the line.

Elite Program

The Elite Program is competition based and primarily targets the Olympic Games and World Championships. Other important targets depending on the year are World Cup Finals, Nations Cup Finals and Pan American Games. League of Nations (LLN) and other 5* Nations Cups are the backbone of the Program year in year out.

Invitations to 5* Nations Cups are becoming ever more challenging but the Program continues to maximize opportunities and has gained the respect of Organizers globally which is critical when seeking invitations. The Selection Methodology for CSIO's, when not part of a Championship selection process, utilizes the Rolex/USEF Ranking list to select three (3) applicant athletes and the remaining two (2) athletes are discretionary choices by the Chef d'Equipe in order to provide up and coming athletes and horses experience at the CSIO5* level.

Additionally, the Program delivers the Gold Standard when it comes to the team that supports the team. From planning and logistics, to veterinary advice and support, to equine and human physio the support team is made up of industry experts and works hand in hand with the grooms, the athletes and the athletes' home teams. The aim is to create a performance focused environment which is calm, welcoming to new athletes and grooms but laser focused on ensuring the athlete / horse combinations can maximize their performance on the field of play.

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

CSIO3* Teams

The 3* Nations Cups play a vital role in the development of U.S. jumping athletes, serving as a steppingstone on the pathway to higher-level international team competition. The CSIO3* Tours are designed to provide athletes and horses with essential team experience while fostering the next generation of talent in the U.S.

3* Nations Cups are primarily targeted at athletes who have delivered consistent clear rounds at 1.50m or higher. They are also an important opportunity for senior athletes with younger horses that are aiming to develop for future 5* or championship-level teams.

The water jump is compulsory in all 3* Nations Cups. It is crucial that athlete/horse combinations have prior experience competing over the open water.

Athletes are encouraged to compete in multiple 3* Nations Cups to gain invaluable team experience, which is key to advancing successfully to 5* team competitions. These experiences help build skills that are essential at the highest levels of international competition.

By participating in the CSIO3* Tours, athletes are better prepared for the challenges of 5* Nations Cups and the demands of international senior teams.

Similar to the CSIO5*, securing invitations to European CSIO3* is a challenge and we are constantly working to ensure that U.S. receive invitations. Please visit usef.org/jumping for the CSIO3* schedule.

Funding and Grants are available at varying levels for athlete/horse combinations selected to represent the US at specific CSIOs and Championships. For more information please visit usef.org/jumping.

The U.S. has a history of success at the Youth Nations Cup Finals, with notable achievements in recent years. In 2019, the U.S. Young Rider Team took home the gold medal, followed by another impressive performance in 2021 when the US junior team claimed gold.
