

Para-Equestrian Dressage Program Structure and Programs

Development Athlete Program

(Revised and effective April 19, 2023)

The Aim of the Development Athlete Program is to identify athlete / horse combinations with the perceived ability to reach Elite status. This will include developing athletes who have not yet reached Elite status and athletes who have, previously reached Elite status but who currently have a horse that has not yet reached Elite status but is on a trajectory to do so.

Principles

- Identification of developing athlete/horse combinations and developing Athletes is a key component of the Development Athlete Program in order to manage expectations, facilitate direct communication and foster the talent effectively.
- The Development Athlete Program is not a centrally based clinic driven program but a communication- based system that provides opportunities. Educational and training opportunities will be offered.
- Para Dressage Development Coach, Technical Advisor and USEF Discipline Director led communication, training sessions, competition planning, selection methodology, logistical planning.
- Ensure Technical Advisor is briefed on combinations moving up the Pathway.
- Empower Development Athletes to remain with their own trainers within their own programs but challenge them to move up the Pathway and provide opportunities where possible or requested. Identify certain KPIs and requirements to stay in the Development A Athlete Program.
- Work with Development Athletes' trainers to better involve them and help them (where necessary) to understand what is required to be internationally competitive within each Grade.

- European CPEDIs
